

Extra task for missed seminar October 4th

If you missed the morning of the 4th, you need to complete the morning question below using about 500 words. If you missed the afternoon, you need to complete the afternoon question using about 500 words. The afternoon was mandatory regardless of your attendance record.

If you missed the whole day, you need to turn in answers to all questions. E-mail your answers to malin.ostman@csduppsala.uu.se in a word-document or pdf.

Morning:

- What do you see as the most important emerging political trends in the world right now?
- How do these connect to Sustainable Development?
- Take a look at Sverker Gustavssons ppt (online). If you got the opportunity, what questions would you like to ask him?

Afternoon:

On the afternoon of the 4th you classmates got the opportunity to discuss their first assignments.

To complete this extra task, you either need to obtain a copy of a classmate's assignment yourselves, or contact me so I can give you one.

This exercise is for discussing the content of your assignments in an interesting way, and getting/giving feedback. You are not supposed "correct" or "grade" each other.

- Read through your peer's assignment and make notes. The notes should focus on interesting points and questions raised - the content of the answers themselves, not on the writing as such.
- Relate/compare the assignment to the one you have written yourself. What are the differences/similarities? Why?

Good luck/Malin
