

Individual Reflection

Reflection on change project and course content

Actors and Strategies for Change - Towards Global Sustainabilities | Spring 2015

The purpose of this task is for you to reflect on the project work, and elaborate in what ways it is connected to the rest of the course. Use the following questions as support in your reflection process.

Evaluating the project

What went well? What did you enjoy in your work? What was the most challenging?
What would you do differently if you did the same project again?

Connection to the rest of the course

Draw on your experience and knowledge from the course in thinking about the following questions. What kind of strategy for change was your group employing? In what way would your project contribute to sustainability? How does it connect to other theories and ideas we have discussed in class? Give examples from lectures or the literature.

The projects of your peers

What did you learn from the project presentations of your peers?
